Disney Cruise Line to grow to 7 ships

Disney Cruise Line announced at the recent Epcot its fleet would grow to seven ships by 2023.

While the line previously had announced two new ships were coming in 2016 and 2018, President Bob Buell said in a statement that a third ship was ordered in spring, bringing the total to three ships for delivery in 2016, 2017 and 2018.

“Over the next five years, the Disney cruise line will grow to seven displacement vessels," Buell said. "This is the largest increase in our fleet since we began operations in 1998 and 1999, and the first time we have added new ships to our fleet since 2000."
